

Bringing innovation to life

Technological advances, along with evolving policies and trends, are driving the health benefits industry in exciting new directions. This year's GIPC event has a special focus on innovation: what's changing now, and important trends that will shape the group insurance and pharmaceutical industry in the future.

Agenda Highlights Include:

Developments in government policy and their implications for private health benefits plans
Innovation in benefits technology and how it's impacting our industry
Panel discussions on emerging issues and trends

Don't miss this exciting opportunity to stay on top of key trends and network with your peers! Spaces are limited, so register today at www.gipc.ca.
